"When I quoted the price of meat to them," Edelman told Patrolmen Newwood, "they took up a stand outside the store and whenever a prospective customer appeared urged her not to come in. In the Bridge Plaza Court Magistrate Dale paroled the women for examination on July 17."

LICENSE ON AUTO OF BANDIT TRIO IN BROOKLYN A FAKE

Police Fail to Get Clue of Borden Employee Robbers—Card Players Held Up.

Brooklyn detectives and some from Manhattan are working to-day on the trail of three auto bandits who got $4,000 yesterday afternoon from employees of the Borden Farm Products Company. They have learned that the license number of the bandits' car was a fake. But if any further progress toward solution of the case has been made the police have not reported it.

James J. Hardcastle, superintendent of the company, and three guards, Harry Feinman, Salvatore Carita and Thomas Adams, were in a light auto on their way to the Coney Island Bank, carrying money from the Borden branch store at Gravesend Avenue and Avenue W, Brooklyn.

The bandits in a black touring car struck the auto from behind, shooting it up an embankment and throwing out one of the guards. The robbers, masked with handkerchiefs, held up the Borden man, although the latter was armed, grabbed the money bag and drove away. Feinman fired five shots, but none took effect. The robbery took place within 250 feet of the Borden office and within 150 feet of a car line. Passengers from surface cars heard the shots and ran to the scene. Employees in the Borden office saw the robbery from the window.

This was only one of a long series of robberies, shootings, assaults, etc., committed in New York since yesterday morning. The Evening World does not know all the stories because the police suppress such news under orders from "higher ups," but here are some that the police did not effectively suppress:

Fred Cook, No. 1523 Jessup Avenue, the Bronx, a retired merchant, last night was shot by a burglar as he entered his home. Edmond Bischope, a neighbor, saw two men come out, one short, the other tall. They escaped. The burglars had opened a tin box in which Cook kept papers, including Liberty Bonds, but nothing was taken. J. P. Walt, a neighbor, No. 1539 Jessup Avenue, called the police.

"Two policemen looked around," he said, "but did nothing more. They did not even take the tin box on the chance of getting finger prints from it."

Here is another:

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning seven men were playing cards in the studio of Edward Eytensben, an artist, No. 254 West 34th Street. The door opened and three men came in with pistols. They wore handkerchiefs over their faces. They lined the seven against the wall, took $25 and a $100 pin from Eytensben and about $400 from his guests. A man who described himself as Joseph Farley, No. 187 West 33d Street, a driver, was arrested, charged with assault and robbery.

Another: Police of the West 47th Street Station at first denied this morning and afterward admitted that a complaint of assault and robbery had been made at 4 o'clock by two men who described themselves as Joseph Martinez, No. 174 West 51st Street, and Anthony Gomez, No. 494 7th Avenue. Martinez's knees were cut and Gomez's head bruised.

It was only after an Evening World reporter had armed himself with information from the neighborhood of No. 250 West 51st Street, in front of which number the robbery was alleged to have been committed, that the police admitted any knowledge of the affair. They said no arrests had been made and declined to tell how much the robbers obtained.

Neighbors said that a taxicab rushed away just before the police came. They said at least one shot was fired.

An automobile that went over an embankment at Palisade Avenue and 21st Street was identified to-day as one stolen from Beanie Leonard, lightweight champion. There were traces of blood, and the police learned that six men had been in it. None of the injured has been found.

Policeman Cuthbert Behan, East 23d Street Station, saw three men running from 21st Street and Fourth Avenue early this morning. In a hallway he found David N. Keich, No. 29 East 21st Street, semi-conscious from a blow on the head. Behan rounded the men up at the point of his revolver, took them back to the doorway and then arrested them on Keich's complaint. He said they had robbed him of $15, a ring worth $500 and a gold watch and chain. The prisoners described themselves as Harry Gleason, West Side Y. M. C. A.; Louis Vria, No. 53 East Ninth Street, and Clay E. Hendricks, Rowell, Okla. The police say Gleason confessed that he did the robbing while the other two acted as lookouts.

2-CENT TRANSFER ORDER MAY BE SIGNED TO-DAY

City Unable to Start Court Protest Suit Until New Plan Takes Effect.

Following the announcement by Corporation Counsel Burr of the city's intention to start a legal fight against the decision of Public Service Commissioner Nixon granting the green car lines the right to charge 2 cents for transfers at 99 points on the lines, Mr. Nixon left the city to-day for a vacation of two weeks. The Public Service Commissioner authorized his deputy, E. J. Gleason, to draw up and sign the final order calling for the 2-cent transfers.

Until this order is signed and formally placed on file it will be impossible for Mr. Burr to start court proceedings. Mr.

Gleason is expected to sign the order to-day and Commissioner Nixon promised to keep in touch with the situation during his absence. It is the intention of the Corporation first to ask the Public Service Commissioner to reopen the case.

If Mr. Nixon refuses, which he is expected to do, Mr. Burr will apply to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari, and pending a decision will ask for a stay of the 2-cent order. Mr. Burr insists the company does not actually need the assistance Mr. Nixon has been led to believe it requires.

A Mayor Hyman to-day asked Corporation Counsel Burr to use every lawful means to prevent the charge of two cents for transfers and requested him to take the fight to the highest court in the State, if necessary.
